Hi Bill,

Below are the links to the videos that were created by the Kauffman Foundation Executives from Kansas City, Matthew Fischer, Director of New Entrepreneurial Learning in Entrepreneurship, Kim McGrew, Program Associate in Entrepreneurship and Lauren Aleshire, Senior Content Marketing Specialist in Public Affairs when they visited with us in May to see first-hand how the FastTrac program is helping entrepreneurs succeed in a rural community.

They spent a day in Perry visiting with FastTrac alumnus gathering data and video footage from Rachel Richter, 2014 FastTrac Graduate, owner of Olive and Ink and Gary & Betty Burley, 2013 FastTrac Graduates, owners of East Hill Creamery about the success of their business and how the FastTrac program impacted their success.

They also conversed with the spring graduates about what they had learned over the course of the class, how the FastTrac class helped them prepare to start their business and the direction of their business because of what they had learned. There were also discussions about the benefits of a traditional classroom setting and its support of the success of the FastTrac program in Wyoming County. The interviews with Jim Pierce, Jeff Fitch, Mike Fitch, and myself are part of a marketing tool used to support new entrepreneurial learning and shared with other affiliates and programs across the country. The Economic Development Specialist of the Office of Economic and Small Business Development Broward County, Florida, the Director of Small Business Development Center, University of Iowa and Executive Director of Trailhead in Boise, Idaho have already been in contact with me about the success of our program offered in Wyoming County and information about possibly becoming an affiliate.

The videos can be found on our Wyoming County NY FastTrac Facebook page and our website page <https://wycoida.org/178/FastTrac-Entrepreneurship-Training> along with the Kauffman Foundation website, Kauffman Foundation YouTube Channel, Kauffman FastTrac Facebook page and the Kauffman FastTrac YouTube Channel.

In addition, photos of Perry were used on the Kauffman Foundation website.

What a great way to highlight Wyoming County, NY! Please feel free to share the links.

Thank you.

Jen
