Supervisor Kehl, T/Attica questioned a claim for reimbursement by the Village of Perry in the amount of $12K for properties on Travers and St. Helena Streets. These claims are based on a recent court settlement for the Towns of Irondequoit and Brighton v. County of Monroe. The Court of Appeals concluded that the Town of Irondequoit and the Town of Brighton were entitled to relief on their claims challenging the determination of Monroe County that it would not credit unpaid property maintenance and demolition charges, holding that the County was required to credit the maintenance and demolition charges.

The Towns adopted local town code provisions authorizing the imposition of property maintenance and demolition requirements on real property owners providing for
